Elections of student representatives in the Data Science Master Program
(LM-91 Data Science)

The DATA SCIENCE Master Programme Director

- Having regards to the art. 2 of the law 30/12/2010 n. 240;
- Having regards to the art. 11 of the Statute of Sapienza University of Rome (issued with the Rectoral Decree 3689 of 29/10/2012 ;
- Having regards to the University regulations about the elections of the representatives of the students;
- Having regards to the current Faculty regulations;
- Given the need to renew the student components in the Master Program Council;

PROVIDES

the election of student representatives for the Data Science Master Program Council in order to elect three representatives. Student representatives will be voted via a secret-ballot election conducted through the Internet, relying on the Helios web-based open-audit voting system.

Elections will start on 18 December 2018 at 9:00 and end on 20 December 2018 at 13:00.

The tally will start immediately after electronic ballot closing. The number of student representatives to be elected represents 15% upwards of the Professors with voting rights who take part to the Master Program Council. The election results will be valid only if at least 10% of those who have the active voting rights will eventually vote, otherwise the number of the elected students will be reduced in proportion to the number of actual voters. Each voter only expresses one preference.

Only the students who are enrolled in the Data Science Master Program for the current academic year on November 16th 2018 and who have passed at least one exam in the past three years (art. 32, clause 2, letter c of the Statute of Sapienza) and who do not fall in the cases provided for by art. 9 of the "Code of Ethics" can vote.

Students with passive voting rights (candidates) are those who have active voting rights and have submitted a request to the Master Program Director according to the rules mentioned in the footnote. The students' enrollment status on November 16th 2018 is proved by its inclusion in the lists specially crafted for voting or by the certificate issued by the competent offices, except for the appropriate integration.

The candidates submit their application by December 7th, 2018.

The elected students are appointed for two years; the mandate is renewable only once consecutively. In case of refusal of appointment, resignation or subsequent unavailability of one of the elected students, the next ranked candidate student takes over. The term of office of a student representative automatically expires at the end of the status of enrolled student in the Data Science Master Program.

The list of the candidates will be published on the Data Science website <https://datascience.i3s.uniroma1.it> at least one week before the elections.

Students who wish to apply must send an e-mail (using the Sapienza e-mail address) to the Data Science Master Program Director at: datascience@i3s.uniroma1.it
